Brewster Kahle, President
Wide Area Information Servers, Inc.

Inventor and architect of the WAISServer™ publishing system, Brewster Kahle is an influential leader in the Internet publishing industry. He founded Wide Area Information Servers Inc. in July 1992 to create software products and consulting services for companies and organizations interested in publishing information on the Internet. As President of WAIS Inc., Brewster assembled a team of professionals from publishing, consulting and technical backgrounds to architect the next generation of Internet publishing tools.

Before starting WAIS Inc., Brewster was one of the founding members of Thinking Machines Corporation of Cambridge, Massachusetts, where he headed the consortium which developed the WAIS technology. He also designed the chips and processor boards for the company's early supercomputers.

Brewster was schooled at MIT in Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence where he worked closely with Danny Hillis and Marvin Minsky.
